

I don't want solicitation-related calls from anyone, whether I have an "established relationship" with them or not. If I want to buy something, register for something, sign up for something or change something, I will contact the appropriate companies myself. Opt-out is a good thing. Don't mess it up.